The Great Pyramids of Giza

See the Last Remaining Ancient Wonder of the World From the Air and Ground

The Giza Pyramid Complex lies on the outskirts of Cairo and consists of three pyramids, the Great Sphinx, several cemeteries and an industrial complex.

“The Great Giza Pyramid”, officially known as The Pyramid of Khufu or Pyramid of Cheops, is the largest and oldest of the three pyramids. It is believed to have been constructed between 2584 and 2561 BC and was the tallest man made structure for over 4000 years. It is the only one of the Seven Ancient Wonders of the World still in existence today.

The Pyramid of Khafre (Chephren), is built on a slope, making it appear bigger than it is. The third and smallest pyramid is known as Pyramid of Menkaure (Mycenrinus). Climbing on the pyramids is strictly prohibited but tourists can purchase tickets to go inside the ancient tombs.

Visiting Egypt - Helpful Travel Information

Courtesy of the Government's Official Tourism Website

- A Tourist Visa is required and can be applied for online. The typical cost is $25 plus a service fee and single-entry visas are valid for a period of three months. To obtain a visa, your passport must have at least 8 months of validity remaining.
- The official currency is the Egyptian Pound
- Credit cards are not accepted everywhere, so you should be prepared to obtain local currency. This can be done at the airport, at your hotel, or at convenient exchange offices.
- Custom regulations dictate that a maximum of $10,000 US (or equivalent) can be taken into the country, or 5000 Egyptian currency (EGP).
- Official taxi service is offered, as well as Uber service.
- Tips are appreciated, but not an obligation in Egypt.
- It is customary to bargain in shops and at the markets.
- It is important to ask permission before taking photos, even in public. In some places, the taking of photos is prohibited.

An aerial, top-down view of a desert landscape. In the center, a large, dark, rectangular structure, possibly a pyramid or a large building, is visible. The surrounding terrain is sandy and brown, with various smaller structures and patterns scattered across it. In the bottom foreground, a person's feet wearing teal sneakers with yellow laces are visible, suggesting the person is standing on a high vantage point, possibly a cliff or a high-altitude location. A yellow text box is overlaid on the right side of the image.
